

2 March 2006

COSTAIN

NEWSFILE

CONSTRUCTION OF TESCO STORE AT GERRARDS CROSS

Costain Limited has been appointed to review and assess the current situation regarding completion of the Tesco Store and tunnel at Gerrards Cross.

Tesco has appointed the new team, comprising Costain and a small number of new sub-contractors, to review the Gerrards Cross project before taking a final decision on its future. The project was stopped last year after the collapse of a rail tunnel.

It is intended that Costain will be working from the offices already established. Costain engineers will be undertaking surveying, inspection and ancillary work within the site boundary in the near future.

During this process, the thorough review will be carried out which will allow Costain to fully understand the details of the project to be able to implement the design in a way that restores public confidence in the safety of the project. Costain expects this process to take three months to complete.

Ends